"a bunch of regular Frederictonians who can cook with the best of them ... this Band of a dozen or so ... has been at the Harvest Jazz & Blues Festival since Day One, sending crowds home with big smiles on their faces and sore feet from too much dancing. Kind of like the Blues Brothers meet Wilson Pickett, meets Joe Cocker, the highlight is the three piece horn section that adds that little something extra to each song."

"There is one word to be used to describe the atmosphere within a room of 400 ..Magic! The feeling overwhelmed this fundraising coordinator when she stood from her vantage point and watched these wonderful musicians play their music. The crowd was alive, the ambiance was electric. And the night a true success..."
